

Why Record My Wishes?

Although death is inevitable and will eventually happen to us all, the matter of our passing remains one of our least talked about subjects. We generally find the matter of our demise difficult to discuss - especially with those we care for most, so it is important to share what we have in mind for ourselves, at a time when there is little pressure to do so.

By completing this free form, and by noting your likes and preferences now, you will make everything much easier for your loved ones, when the time of your passing eventually comes.

What To Do Next

1. Complete your free My Funeral Wishes form, with as much information as possible
2. Take care to sign and date the form too
3. Store your completed My Funeral Wishes form in a safe and accessible place
4. Let someone you trust (eg. your next of kin), know that you have written down your wishes and tell them where your My Funeral Wishes form is kept
5. You may wish to consider giving a copy to your solicitor, or should you prefer us to retain a copy for you, we'd be happy to do so.
